Make Your Own Water

Hydronic water generators are innovative plug-and-play devices that extract water from the air, filter it, enrich it with essential minerals, and deliver instant water for use at home and in the office. This entire process is contactless, ensuring zero contamination. The hydro-20 water generator can generate up to 15 liters of clean drinking water daily from the surrounding air. The amount of water produced depends on the humidity and temperature levels in the environment.
